Richmond and Albany Selected By U. S. Board

Plans of Admiral Pond To Be Carried Out By Government

The Richmond Terminal newspaper was the first to announce the plans of Rear Admiral Charles F. Pond for the proposed naval base extending from Gilman street, Albany, north to Point Isabella, Richmond.

Admiral Pond's district is the twelfth naval district and comprises the Pacific Coast naval defenses from the Mexican border to the Columbia river.

In an interview with Admiral Pond, The Terminal newspaper representative ascertained that the government fully intends to carry out this immense naval project involving an expenditure of about $12,000,000.

The plans laid before the department at Washington by Admiral Pond have been approved by Secretary of the Navy Daniels and the general board.

"The attractive feature of the naval base site," said Admiral Pond, "will be big El Cerrito Hill which rises above this site several hundred feet, its precipitous height affording ample protection against possible land attack by mounting of modern rapid fire guns, giving a Gibraltar protection."

There are about 430 acres in the property reserved by the govern-

City Hall Contest Not Exciting So Far

The people seem to be in an "apathetic state" regarding the future location or site for Richmond's civic center. It may be the lull before the storm, and as one of the first settlers describes it: "Thar's goin' to be h— a poppin' soon."

"Let 'er come," said another old timer, as he stroked his "fantasmas." "We're live wires in Richmond—somthin' doin' ALL the time. We know how to advertise."

As the matter stands today, there will only be the Wall or present site and the East Richmond Nicholas site on the ballot, the others not coming under the requirements of the law.

The condition of W. B. Trull is reported favorable.

ment for purchase. The news of the government's plan is already having a stimulating effect on land values in Stege, southeast Richmond, Rust and Albany.

It is claimed that a number of naval officers have secured choice homesites in this section of the bay district.

News From the Live Suburbs of Richmond

RUST, Cal., Sept. 23.—Special Cor.—The Independent Order of Foresters concluded their first whist tournament Tuesday evening by giving away $50 in prizes.

High Chief Ranger John P. Murphy made the hit of the evening in a witty speech.

He consoled Herman X. Rust, who won the consolation prize; for the members had anticipated his needs in selecting a prize that would become of greater import in time to come.

Winners of the evening play were Philip Lee, E. B. Hulett, Mrs. Frank Walsh, Miss Dorothy Schaefer, Herman X. Rust, consolation, and Viola Isaacson, consolation.

Those receiving the highest scores: Joseph Thelan, H. B. Carlin, Mrs. Frank Walsh, Mae Renfree, Mrs. Philip Lee, Tillie Gustafson, Frank Weeks and Judge H. R. Mackinnon.

High Secretary Ed N. Cameron favored the court with his presence and afforded amusement for the court by making a low score.

There was dancing, good music under the directorship of Mr. Renfree, and an enjoyable evening.

The Foresters will give another one in Davis hall Saturday evening, Sept. 28. Everybody welcome.

RUST NOTES.

Downer, the pharmacist, declares that a "perfume" valerian can "go some."

The dog census of the county line district totals 13,232,323, more or less, mostly licensed.

The big storm sewer will soon be tested by the heavy winter rains. The cost of this improvement was about $5000.

"Blind Jim" has copped the color scheme by painting his lobby and conservatory green. Jim says it "looks good" to him.

Mt. El Cerrito has been inactive of late, but an eruption in real estate circles may occur when Uncle Sam begins to mount the crest with 14-inch guns.

Judge H. R. Mackinnon reports the market very weak in trials, but reports favorably on Dan Cupid's prospective yuletide activity.

The Terminal Has Priority in Richmond

The Terminal was the first union label newspaper in Richmond. Dr. Warren B. Brown, the original publisher, "beat them all to it." The Terminal, however, never was and is not a class newspaper. The Terminal is interested in ALL OF THE PEOPLE all the time—not part of them.

Albany Briefs

Mayor Daniels is very low with heart trouble.

Trustee Brown acted in Mayor Daniel's place Monday night.

It is whispered that Chris Miller will try for that $50 per city treasurer.

The fine 80-h.p. Seagrave fire truck is having the letters erased and "Albany F. D. No. 1" substituted.

Chief Roy Lemoine of Richmond inspected the new firehouse and equipment and complimented the Albany citizens for their enterprise and pride in civic improvements. He praised the beautiful firehouse lawn, and will endeavor to produce the same effect around the Richmond firehouses.

Stag Notes.

San Jose's drove will number over 1000.

A drove of over 100 Stags was instituted in Woodmen hall last night.

The Order of Stags is founded on progressive and sound principles, and is up to date, the dues $1.00 per month and no assessments.

Little Boosters.

Factories are coming to this bay region in flocks—and Richmond is the main objective point for some big ones.

"Throw away your hammer and get a horn" is a good slogan. No one ever lost by investing in Richmond.

The Terminal is the industrial newspaper, the one that helped make Macdonald avenue the main business artery of Richmond.

Richmond is the healthiest city on the Pacific Coast. The vigilance of the health commissioner and the favorable climatic conditions are the important factors.

There should be closer business relations established between Richmond and Marin county residents. The Richmond-San Rafael ferry has made a vast and thickly populated territory accessible and paved the way for establishing closer social and business relations with the Marinites. Los Angeles would have had Marin county "annexed" long ago.

Always say a good word for the city of Richmond, where your interests are. Don't "rap" the fellow who pays the taxes and has his "wad" invested here, for he's going stay with it and win. He may "snooze" at night in the foothills or Milpitas, we should worry about that. "Money talks." His investments in Richmond, his working capital and active business relations identify him and prove his sincerity. "Boost—don't knock."

Organizer Deaver Enrolled Many Stags

Organizer Deaver did himself proud in organizing Richmond Drove No. 130. You can join for days yet at the nominal fee, then it will cost $25. E. J. Deaver, the organizer, was requested to leave the charter open for a few days to accommodate the "late ones."

May Extend On Into Marin County At Once

The Southern Pacific Co. is now making a schedule for electric railway extension from Albany to Richmond over Cutting boulevard and Tenth street in Richmond, also for an electric along the main line to Bay Point.

The franchises over Belmont avenue to San Pablo Bay holds good and it would be no surprise if this company make ferry connection across San Pablo Bay to Point McNear to connect with the Northwestern Pacific by an electric line to San Rafael to get its share of the Northwestern traffic on this missing link connecting the two systems, taking an extra boat from the Oakland service after the Exposition. The company also has its eyes on the Key Route which can be easily financed by the Southern Pacific Company.

Hawkeyes Take a Look at Richmond

Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips who formerly lived in Ottumwa, Iowa, were in Richmond Tuesday and called at The Terminal newspaper office. They were looking for a location, and think Richmond is best place to anchor. Mrs. Phillips is the daughter of the well known citizen of Southeastern Iowa, Judge Fowler, for many years a resident of Ottumwa.

Salinas Man Buys Half Interest of Bacon

W. E. Morton of Salinas has purchased a half interest in the Martinez Abstract and Title Co. Mr. Morton is well and favorably known in the Salinas valley. Mr. Bacon will devote a greater portion of his time to the Richmond plant.

Weekly Summary of World's News

RUSSIANS IN TRAP FACE BIG BATTLE TO ESCAPE CAPTURE

Slav Forces Enveloped on Three Sides in Triangle Between Vilna, Lida and Vilcika

Rome.—Active operations soon are likely to be under way along the frontiers of the Balkan states, the Tribune announces that it has learned from competent sources. It says an Austro-German movement has been planned for the latter part of October, the plan involving the expected diversion of 500,000 men from the Russian campaign to the Balkans, with the simultaneous procurement of Bulgaria's adherence in the move to open a route from Budapest to Constantinople.

London.—The Germans have occupied Vilna, and by a wide sweeping movement to the north of that city, have succeeded in almost entirely surrounding a portion of the Russian army, which is fighting in the railway triangle between Vilna, Lida and Vilcika.

At any rate, the Russian forces in this district either must fight their way out eastward or retire in a southerly direction, for the only railway left entirely in their hands is that which runs from Vilna to Lida, and then to Baranovitch.

The army of Field Marshal von Hindenburg, which took Vilna and has reached Vilcika, to the east of Vilna, is working in close co-operation with that of Archduke Leopold of Bavaria in an effort to catch a part of the Russian army.

The Russians express confidence in the outcome of the battle, but with their armies held closely along the Dvina and the German flank well protected by their cavalry, which recently occupied Widsay, across the Vilna-Petrograd railway, it seems impossible that any aid can come to them from that direction.

The battle seemingly must be fought out between the troops now in the district between Vilna, Lida and Slonim, with the assistance of any reinforcements that can be spared to hold the German force which has reached Vilcika.

At the southern end of the line, General Ivanoff still is keeping Field Marshal von Mackensen at arm's length from the fortress of Rovno, the key to the route of Kiev, and in counter-attacks has retaken a number of villages both in Volhynia and Galicia.

It seems apparent from the inability of the Austro-Germans to hold their positions in the southern area that they have sent reinforcements from that front to Field Marshal von Hindenburg's northern army, which, as heretofore, is expected to score the biggest success.

Both the Germans and the French claim minor victories on the western front, but neither there, in the Italian theater nor in the Dardanelles have any events of great moment been reported.

The political situation in the Balkans still is perplexing and uncertain. The Bulgarians having obtained what they wanted from Turkey in the cession of a railroad line, appear to be well satisfied for the present. But there now is talk in Berlin of the Bulgarians taking by force, if they cannot get it otherwise, the portions of Macedonia taken from them by the Serbians and Greeks during the last Balkan war.

It is asserted the Bulgarians have called to the colors all the Macedonian recruits now in Bulgaria and that generally there is a warlike feeling in existence among the Bulgarians.

But with Bulgaria surrounded by Serbia, Greece and Rumania and her coasts subject to attack by Anglo-French, Italian and Russian fleets, it is believed here Bulgaria will hesitate before throwing in her lot with the central powers and Turkey.

GIRL SUED FOR $500,000 LEFT TO HER BY FATHER

Huge Sum in Gold Alleged to Have Been Stolen by Parent

Sacramento.—The theft of $500,000 in gold, between the years 1905 and 1913, is charged in an action filed in the County Clerk's office September 15 by a group of Michigan mining men.

The suit is directed against Agnes Baxter, daughter of the late Guy A. Dubois.

The Michigan men—Charles Binder, Robert Binder, Christopher Switzer, William Larkin and Ernest King—formed a corporation known as the Huron Submarine Mining Company. They went into the gold dredging business near Redding.

Dubois, it is set forth in the complaint, was employed to operate a dredger. He is alleged to have stolen half a million in gold from the dredger. It is asserted that with this amount he bought stock in the Byron-Jackson Pump Company of Stockton. He is also said to have caused dredgers to be built under a patent owned by the Michigan men.

Dubois and his wife died in 1913, and Agnes Baxter inherited the estate. Suit is brought to recover the stock and $20,000.

The papers were filed by Attorneys Frank L. Mars and R. Rathburn. Charles Binder appears as the complainant.

2,571,750 RUSSIANS GERMAN PRISONERS

Geneva.—The number of Russians taken prisoners since May 1 by the Austrians and Germans is reckoned by "La Suisse" at 2,571,750. It is estimated that 6,000 guns and 4,000 machine guns have been captured. The newspaper states that these figures have been compiled from official bulletins issued at Berlin and Vienna.

HIGHGRADERS' CACHE OF ORE IS RECOVERED

$35,000 Worth of Quartz Found by Officers in Sacramento

Sacramento.—As the result of the arrest of A. H. Coggins, son of a pioneer of Nevada county and formerly employed as specimen boss at the Empire mine in Nevada county, near San Jose, on information from Grass Valley, and the subsequent alleged confession by him in the theft of high-grade ore from Nevada county, a cache of $35,000 worth of high-grade ore was found September 16 in the basement of a house just outside the city limits.

Sheriff J. R. Martin of Nevada county took possession of the ore. The arrest of Coggins was the result of information furnished by Donald Thompson and Volle Graham, two men arrested in this city last month with more than $15,000 worth of high-grade ore in their possession. The ore had been buried in the basement of the building, and on top of it was piled a heap of excelsior. Most of the quartz was tied up in six canvas sacks, the remainder, valued at $10,000, having been hidden in boxes.

Coggins is well known in Sonoma county, where he has prominent family connections.

Archibald Boone, a brother-in-law of Coggins, was arrested by Sheriff Martin at Loomis September 18. Boone is the owner of the property in which the ore was hidden.

Grass Valley.—A. S. Coggins, confessed "high grader," had a hearing in the Justice Court at Nevada City last Saturday, and was bound over to the Superior Court. Bonds were fixed at $10,000, which he was unable to furnish. Coggins cried in court when confronted by his wife and baby. It is believed his pecuniary means may reach $50,000.

NEW ORLEANS AERIAL RACE TO BUENOS AIRES

New Orleans.—Arnold Kruckman and a syndicate will stage a race between New Orleans and Buenos Aires in the spring, the start being made from here probably on Mardi Gras day. The purse will be for $150,000, of which New Orleans will put up $20,000, the South Americans having guaranteed the rest. The best long distance flyers are expected to take part.

Eureka.—Dr. O. W. Sinclair, Eureka surgeon, was killed Wednesday afternoon, September 15, when a southbound Northwestern Pacific freight train struck his automobile at Scotia crossing. Francis Little, who was with the doctor, was injured, but not fatally.

Sebastopol.—Mrs. Charles Libby, who resides on a ranch near Stone station, rushed through fire and smoke September 15, and grabbing up her twin babies, wrapped them in a blanket and staggered out through the flames to safety after having her clothing burned from her body.

Stockton.—C. F. A. Primrose, a prominent farmer of this county, was last Saturday formally charged with the murder of Nishikawa, the Japanese foreman of his father-in-law. When the murder was committed Primrose was employed by his father-in-law as manager.

Sacramento.—Mortimer Gleishacker, San Francisco banker, has been appointed by Governor Johnson the fifth member of the rural credits commission. The appointments of the other members, announced several days ago by Harris Weinstein, have been made official by the Governor.

Los Angeles.—Fred R. Emery, head of the insurance department of the Los Angeles Investment Company, was taken into custody September 17 after he was alleged to have confessed to the police that he had forged checks of the company, amounting to approximately $15,000.

San Diego.—Right Rev. Thomas J. Conaty, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Los Angeles and Monterey, was last Saturday morning found dead in a bed in a cottage at Coronado Beach he had occupied two weeks ago. Death, it was believed, was due to ulceration of the stomach.

Los Angeles.—Laura Oakley, the motion picture actress, who holds the position of Police Chief at University City, the big movie camp near here, will go to San Francisco and be married there within two weeks, her friends learned recently. The husband-to-be is Milton Moore, a cinematographer. Moore is at present at Lake Tahoe.

Oakland.—A. B. Clark, prominent contractor, Grand Army veteran and a resident of this city since 1886, died September 15 at his home, 2721 East Eleventh street, at the age of 73. Clark was well known in lodge circles, holding a membership in Lyon Post, No. 8, G. A. R., as well as in the Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias. He was a native of New York, and is survived by a widow.

Hanford.—More than 2800 acres of land will be set out to fruit in Kings county during the ensuing year, the bulk of the planting being cling peaches and apricots, although there has been a large number of prune and grape areas planted. Olives also are coming into favor and during this year ninety-six acres will come into bearing, while more than 140 additional acres are to be set out this fall.

Marysville.—Although sparsely settled, and with thousands of acres yet untouched by the farmer, Yuba and Sutter counties last year shipped products from here of an estimated value of $6,500,000, according to figures compiled by G. W. Harney, Yuba county commissioner of horticulture. The figures show that mining in Yuba county still is the most important industry of this section, the value of mining products for the last year being $3,000,000.

RECOGNITION TO END TROUBLE IN MEXICO

Conferees Announce Under No Circumstance Will There Be Chance for Intervention

New York.—Secretary Lansing, representing the United States Government, and the diplomatic representatives of Brazil, Chile, Argentina, Bolivia, Uruguay and Guatemala, resolved at their meeting here last Saturday that the time had come for the extension of formal recognition to a government in Mexico. Three weeks from last Saturday another meeting of the conference will be held in Washington, at which a decision is to be reached as to the elements upon which recognition should be conferred.

A formal statement issued by the conference declared that, inasmuch as the factions themselves had failed to come to an agreement, recognition would be accorded to the de facto authorities possessing the "material and moral capacity necessary to protect the lives and property of nationals and foreigners."

Each of the several governments, it was announced, would itself "judge such a capacity, and recognition will likewise be extended by each government separately at such time as it may deem proper."

Unless the military situation in Mexico takes a decided turn within the next three days in favor of General Villa, who has concentrated his forces for battle with General Obregon, the Carranza commander-in-chief, at Torreon, most of the conferees were of the opinion that the Carranza government would logically be entitled to recognition.

The several governments will endeavor to learn, however, not only what territory each faction controls, but what promise of stability the factions give that aspire to recognition.

ENGINE KILLS FRESNO FOLK IN AUTOMOBILE

Woman and Grandson Victims When Car Slides Onto Tracks

Fresno.—Two people were killed—an aged woman and her grandchild—and five were injured Sunday afternoon when an automobile being driven by Charles Klein, a business man of this city, coasted on to the Santa Fe tracks at Wolfe, a little station ten miles from here, and was struck by a southbound Santa Fe train.

THE DEAD. Mrs. Maggie Klein, aged 74; Annie Klein, aged 8, her grandchild.

THE INJURED. Charles Klein, compound fracture of both legs; Mrs. Margaret Klein, his wife, body bruised; Theodore Klein, 13, left leg fractured; Marie Klein, 10, right angle fractured; Lizzie Klein, 12, body bruised.

Klein with his wife and children and mother was out for a pleasure ride. According to information Klein saw the approaching train and shut off his engine. He coasted on to the tracks and was hit by the engine before he could turn on the power again.

SAN FRANCISCO HAS 518,246 POPULATION

San Francisco's population, figured out by the local school department, should be 518,246 instead of only 502,684, as given out recently by the State Superintendent. Direct issue is taken with the method used by the Sacramento officials in the figures that are constantly given out by that office as to the population of this city.

The average daily attendance of this city for the year ending last June was 46,272. This number multiplied by 11.2 will give a result of 518,246. For the purpose of distribution of funds the State School Superintendent counts a night pupil as a half, as he only attends half the time of a day student. The local office has no fault to find with this for the pro rata distribution of funds.

AMERICAN STEAMSHIP HELD UP EIGHT TIMES

New York.—The American steamer Portland reached here September 15 from Sweden and British ports after having been held up by eight war vessels in her trip. The freighter sailed from San Francisco with a cargo for Stockholm and carrying a British consular certificate providing against interference.

EXPOSITION SCENE OF BOLD ROBBERY

Masked Man Takes $700 From Change Maker on Grounds and Escapes Arrest

San Francisco.—Within a stone's throw of the guards' headquarters at the exposition Saturday night, Luther Wolley, change-maker for the department of admissions, was held up at the point of a revolver by a masked man and robbed of a bronze box containing $700 of exposition funds.

The daring bandit made good his escape, and although all the gates were closely watched by reserves of guards no trace of the man was found. Wolley said that he left his station at the kiosk without the Scott street entrance at 10:35 o'clock, carrying the box in both hands. As he rounded the south side of Festival Hall, which is in a shadow, the robber sprang from a clump of bushes.

"Hands up, and hand over that box quickly!" ordered the bandit from behind his mask, at the same time pressing a pistol against Wolley's body. Wolley was unable to hold up his hands, and the robber then grabbed the box away from him. Whistling, as if to indicate that he had an accomplice watching, the robber ordered Wolley to remain hidden in the trees for half an hour under pain of death.

Peeking from his hiding place, Wolley saw the bandit replace the revolver in his pocket, tear off the mask and apparently wrap the treasure box in his overcoat. As soon as the robber disappeared around the turn in the direction of the Scott-street gates, Wolley ran to the headquarters.

The change-maker, who is 23 years of age, and lives at the Lenox Hotel, described the bandit as being five feet, seven inches tall, wearing a black overcoat and derby hat. Chief of Admissions and Concessions Goodman said that Wolley has been employed as a change-maker since the opening of the exposition, and that he has no suspicion that the robbery was a case of connivance.

BRITISH LOSSES ON TURK FRONT 87,630

London.—British casualties at the Dardanelles up to August 21 were 87,630. The number killed in that time was 17,608.

These figures were included in the grand total of British casualties published earlier in the week.

An announcement says the number of officers killed was 1,130, and the number of men 16,478; wounded, 2,371 officers and 59,257 men; missing, 373 officers and 8,021 men.

San Diego.—Lieutenant Walter R. Tallaferrro, junior military aviator attached to the signal corps aviation school at the military aerodrome at North Island, smashed the American sustained flight record for pilot alone September 17. He flew 9 hours and 48 minutes, beating the record of 8 hours and 53 minutes made by Lieutenant Byron Q. Jones of the First Aero Squadron on January 16, 1915.

Fashions in the battling countries of Europe have been greatly influenced by the war. This woman is wearing what is known in England as the Jellicoe hat, modeled after the naval design, and a military cape.

MEXICANS KILLED; BORDER SKIRMISH

Carranzistas Fire Upon U. S. Troopers Across Rio Grande at Two Points in Texas

Brownsville, Texas.—Between twenty and twenty-five Carranzista soldiers are believed to have been killed September 17 by American troops in two battles along the Rio Grande. There were no American casualties.

Both battles were started by the Carranzistas, who fired on American troops.

One took place before Matamoros, the Mexican town across the Rio Grande, three miles from here, and the other at Los Ebanos, fifty miles northwest of Brownsville.

As a result of the attacks by Carranzistas on American troops serious international complications are feared.

Race feeling is high, and the Mexicans in Matamoros are in a frenzy. All American residents of that town have fled to Brownsville for their lives. Other foreigners are coming here for refuge. They say an anti-American outbreak may occur at any moment.

General Naffarratta, Carranza's commander at Matamoros, denies that his troops were responsible for the fighting.

In a statement he charged that American troops were the only ones who did any shooting, and declares they fired without cause.

Acting under instructions from the War Department at Washington, Colonel A. P. Blockson, commander of the American forces at Fort Brown, has instituted a thorough investigation of the battle before Matamoros.

Lieutenant F. L. N. Olmstead, who commanded the detachment of cavalry which engaged the Mexicans, made his report. He flatly denies Naffarratta's statement that Americans were the aggressors.

LAW OF GRAVITY IS CONQUERED BY ITALIAN

Paris.—Louis Rota, an Italian engineer, has solved the problem of holding an object motionless in space, according to the Marseilles' correspondent of the Petit Parisien. Rota is credited with having constructed an apparatus which, by the action of electric currents, can be elevated to a height of from 2000 to 3000 feet and kept motionless, or propelled in any direction at a speed of more than 100 miles an hour.

Rota's apparatus is spindle-shaped, 12 feet long and 2 feet in diameter and can carry a weight of 90 pounds. It is said to remain motionless in a wind of considerable velocity, but if the wind becomes very strong it rises automatically until it reaches a calmer region of the air. The invention is based upon reactions obtained from the electro-magnetic forces of the atmosphere.

SHEET IS USED TO STRANGLE WOMAN

Murderer of Mrs. Baker Quiets Suspicion of Landlady as He Works at His Leisure

San Francisco.—Foully murdered, with a sheet knotted about her neck, the body of a woman, known thus far only as "Mrs. Baker," was found in a rented room in the flat at 1029 Franklin street at 8:30 o'clock last Sunday night.

Not long before the shocking discovery was made by Mrs. Alice M. Marshall, the landlady, and while the corpse of his victim was stiffening into its final rigidity, the murderer, a young man who had posed as the slain woman's nephew, slipped unnoticed from the scene of the brutal crime, leaving one of the most tangled mysteries with which the police have been confronted.

At the time the murder was committed, several people were in the flat, and the landlady probably surprised the murderer in the very act of cutting off the last gasps of the dying woman.

As Mrs. Marshall was passing the door of the hall bedroom at 7:30 o'clock she was startled by the sound of heavy breathing.

"Is any one sick?" inquired the landlady.

"No, thank you," responded a man's voice calmly.

An hour later, attracted to the room by a vague suspicion that something was wrong, Mrs. Marshall came upon the gruesome spectacle.

In the full flare of the electric lights the body of the murdered woman lay face downward upon the floor, garroted, lips tinged with blood and face bruised, indicating that her assailant had beaten her before he tied the sheet, knotted many times, about her throat.

The dead woman was between 35 and 40 years of age, small in stature, five feet in height, weighing 120 pounds. She had full features, brown hair and had evidently worn nose glasses, a pair being found on the floor. The body was without shoes or stockings and was attired in a dark skirt and white waist.

The supposed murderer is described as a powerfully built man, six feet tall and weighing 200 pounds. He is about 25 years old, smooth shaven, has light brown hair and blue eyes. He was well dressed, although the garments of the woman are plain.

FORMER S. F. DOCTOR RELEASED ON BONDS

St. Louis.—Dr. Emory Lanphear, 66, who was arrested at midnight Thursday, September 16, after two women had told detectives that Dr. Lanphear was the father of their children, was released at 3 p. m. The bond calls for the appearance of Dr. Lanphear in the court of criminal correction September 21.

Dr. Lanphear's first wife died. He was divorced from his second wife, Mrs. Mary Lanphear, in San Francisco, June 21 last. She charged him with desertion.

The police had been holding Dr. Lanphear for investigation of suspected violation of the Mann act, but the United States District Attorney's office declined to issue a warrant against him on that charge.

Beachy's Pupil Fatally Hurt

Plainview, Texas.—Joseph Pendhyn, a Chicago aviator, was dashed to the earth and probably fatally injured here September 17, when a gust of wind capsized his plane as he was concluding a flight. Pendhyn's legs were broken in several places, and he suffered internal injuries. He was a pupil of Lincoln Beachy. His wife saw the accident.

Kasota, Minn.—"I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and suffered with pain down in my right side for a year or more. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I feel like a different person. I believe there is nothing like Lydia E. An Easy Way to Get Rid of Ugly Pimples

Bathe your face for several minutes with resitol soap and hot water, then apply a little resitol ointment very gently. Let this stay on ten minutes, and wash off with resitol soap and more hot water, finishing with a dash of cold water to close the pores. Do this once or twice a day, and you will be astonished to find how quickly the healing resitol medication soothes and cleanses the pores, removes pimples and blackheads, and leaves the complexion clear and velvety.

STEWED APPLES AND CREAM

Walter Followed Instructions to Letter and Maker of Bad Joke Had to Settle the Bill.

The joker who makes a bad joke deserves it turned on him, as it very often is.

A man who dined at a restaurant was asked in the ordinary way by the waiter what he would have for the next course.

"You may bring me stewed apples and some cream."

"Yes, sir."

"Only let me have them without the cream."

"Yes, sir; most certainly, sir."

"And without the apples, please."

The waiter disappeared and soon returned with a plate on which lay a spoon and a little powdered sugar.

The customer looked surprised.

"It's your stewed apples and cream, sir, without the stewed apples, and without the cream," said the waiter. The item figured on the bill just the same, and the customer had to pay it.

DODGING TROUBLE.

Miss Bignitt, the Stenog—Did you fire me just 'cause I misspell a few words now an' then an' sometimes get balled up in my notes?
Mr. Littleton—By no means. You see, I have an unreasonably jealous wife, and she won't allow me to keep a pretty young stenographer in my office.

Feminine Consistency.

"What's the matter, Hawkins?"

"Matter enough! You know some time ago I assigned all my property to my wife to—er—to keep it out of the hands of people I owe, you know."

"Yes."

"Well, she's taken the money and gone off—says she won't live with me because I've swindled my creditors."

No Gardener.

"What are you fooling with there?"

"Asparagus. First, you trench it, next you get it started, then you transplant it. In a couple of years you will have a fine crop. Better plant some."

"Not for mine. I don't see why anybody should go to all that trouble when you can buy it for 13 cents a can."

Juvenile Imagination.

"Don't you know that you ought to be careful not to leave finger marks on your books," said the teacher who was trying to encourage neatness.

"Yes," replied the small boy. "Bill Jenkins told me about that. Some day the habit is liable to put the detectives on your trail."

Needed a Silencer.

"What will you have next?" asked the waiter.

"Why, I gave you the whole order," replied the lady.

"Yes, but the gentleman with you was taking his soup, and I couldn't hear you."

Doubtful.

"Arthur seems a bright, capable fellow. I think he'll get on."

"Well, he's certainly a worthy young man, but I doubt whether he has head enough to fill his father's shoes."

HE WOULDN'T BE DISTURBED

While Mabel Petted and Coaxed Him Jack Was Listless—Footsteps of Father Aroused Him.

Mabel moved closer. "Jack, what's the matter?" she asked softly. Jack looked at her languidly and gazed again into the fire.

"Jack!"

Jack turned listlessly.

"I think you're very rude," pouted Mabel.

Jack looked at her inquiringly.

"You haven't paid the slightest attention to me this evening," she said, drooping her shoulders dejectedly. "I hate you!"

Suddenly it occurred to Mabel that perhaps Jack was not well, and she reproached herself for her attitude toward him.

"Dear," she said contritely, running her hand through his hair, "are you ill?"

Jack leaned slightly. Mabel sighed. The front door opened, and there was a sound of heavy footsteps in the hallway. Jack was off the sofa in an instant.

"It's only father," said Mabel.

Jack barked and jumped up beside Mabel again.—Judge.

The Reason.

"Eh-yah!" confessed J. Fuller Gloom, the prominent pessimist. "I have changed entirely the plans of the house I am going to build in spite of the fact that the architect, my wife and various other sensible and well posted people agreed that it was as near perfect as it could be made and I myself was thoroughly pleased with it."

"Then why—"

"Oh, it didn't suit the neighbors!" —Judge.

It Didn't Work.

"I can't get by with anything."

"What's the matter?"

"I invited a girl to go to the theater. When it came time to buy the seats I was broke, so I told her the house was sold out for that night and promised to take her next week."

"Well?"

"Her aunt took her down on the very night we were to go and they and two other couples were the only people in the parquet."

Took the Hint.

"At 11:30 the beautiful Miss Flitber rose with stately grace and put a record on the phonograph. The strains of a famous aria filled the room."

"Ah!" exclaimed Mr. Boreum.

"Magnificent! What piece is that, may I ask?"

"That," said Miss Flitber, significantly, "is Tosca's 'Good-by.'"

Shortly thereafter Mr. Boreum was saying "Good night."

Gentle Sarcasm.

Blondine—Isn't Gerty Giddigap keeping company with young Bean-

Brunetta—No; she decided he was altogether too extravagant and she passed him up.

"Is that so?"

"Yes; one evening he wanted to take her to a moving picture show in a jitney bus."

Blighted Ambition.

"So your daughter has decided to marry the count?"

"Yes," replied Mr. Wadly, with a de-fected air.

"You don't seem pleased. I'm surprised."

"You needn't be. I was hoping to get a son-in-law who would be an asset instead of liability."

Not Encouraging.

"I have called," said the hungry looking party with the unbarbered hair, "to see if there is a vacancy in your joke department."

"There will be," replied the overworked editor, "as soon as the office boy gets time to empty the waste basket."

NEW VERSION.

Rubber Ousting Tobacco.

Strange are the capers of competition! As far away as British North Borneo the rubber estates are gradually forcing tobacco growing to the wall. Our consul at Sandakan says that only a few tobacco estates are now remaining, but that no less than twenty rubber estates, averaging 26,360 acres each and a capital of $11,970,000, are under cultivation, and 19 of them are producing rubber. Within three years more all estates will be exporting crude rubber and in five years all trees now set out will be ready for tapping. In 1914, 1,875,000 pounds of cultivated rubber was produced. Lack of regular rainfall makes against tobacco. Coconut growing competes with both and is setting limits to the expansion of rubber productions.—Wall Street Journal.

Can This Be True?

The Bachelor—I wonder why the average married woman is always so inquisitive to be seen with her husband in public?

The Spinster—I don't know, of course, but I imagine it's because a public place is the only one in which a woman can induce her husband to treat her with due consideration.

Common Experience.

NOVEL PATRON SAINT

Supposed to Influence "Woman's Crowning Glory."

Shrine Has Been Erected to Mother Manephie, in Klimvoo, at Which Women Who Desire Beautiful Hair Make Prayers.

Who is the patron goddess of the long, lustrously beautiful hair? Or is there a patron saint that presides over "woman's crowning glory"? Modern science, social usage and commercial arrangement have combined to make a saint and goddess in the shape of a woman who conducts the "hairdressing salon." The furnishings and the conventions observed in the "salon" make the term no misnomer and, though the adept might learnedly discuss the historical ladies who were gowned luxuriously—not omitting Lady Godiva and the queen of Sheba—it is a safe wager she makes no mention of Mother Manephie, who, though unheralded to the great outside world, is nevertheless one of the most potent of guardians of the hair. Trans-Volgan peasants have erected a shrine to her.

Mother Manephie died in Klimvoo about fifteen years ago. In the memory of the people among whom she lived no woman ever had hair to equal hers in length, luster, fineness of texture and the magical way in which it imprisoned the light—not only the radiance of the sun, but the moonlight and the diamond-like glitter of the stars! And her length of hair measured with her length of wisdom and its beauty matched her kindness of heart.

Even when she lived the superstitious peasants invested her with supernatural powers. The shrine was a natural complement. There it is that women and children who desire beautiful hair pray for it. But never a man. And, if local testimony goes for anything, the "holy woman," in favoring many suppliants, has performed many prodigies. A story is told of a woman, pained through illness, to whom was given a new and wondrous crown of hair.

Aerial Dreadnaughts.

When Mr. Tennant spoke in the house of commons recently on the large aeroplanes used by Russia, he was alluding to what is known as the Sikorsky biplane, the dreadnaught of flying machines. This biplane is the largest heavier-than-air machine yet invented, and can carry at least twice the load of any known aeroplane. The dead weight of the machine is no less than three and a half tons, and it can carry a load of over a ton.

Nearly half a ton of fuel and oil is carried, and when on a war reconnaissance could carry a quarter of a ton of explosives, consisting perhaps of half a dozen giant bombs, each weighing 10 pounds, as compared with the one or two which aeroplanes now carry, or ten or a dozen 20-pound bombs. Although compared with a Zeppelin, the Sikorsky biplane only carries about a quarter the amount of explosives, and has a much shorter range, it has the very great advantage of being much cheaper, easier to build, less at the mercy of the elements, and a smaller target. It was stated in 1914 that the Russian government had ordered five of these big biplanes.—London Times.

Dog Pilots Nurse and Baby.

Wanda, the Polish nursemaid of the Mahler household of Darby, has demonstrated to the family that, while she can speak no English and doesn't know one Darby street from another, she can think herself out of any difficulty once she gets lost.

One evening Wanda was instructed to take the family's proudest possession, Minnie, a 15-pound incubator baby, out for an airing.

Wanda was so intent on looking after the baby's personal interests that she got lost.

As night fell she decided she simply must get home, so she set her mind to work on the problem. At last a yellow dog came along.

Wanda had seen the dog around the Mahler home, and she thought that if she followed him she would get back into the Mahler neighborhood.—Philadelphia North American.

Prince Napoleon.

Prince Victor Jerome Frederic Napoleon, who has obtained permission of the Italian military authorities to go to the front, is the head of the Napoleon family. Ordinarily he lives in Brussels, having been expelled from France many years ago. He is a Parisian, however, by birth, and his sympathies with the allies are further cemented by the fact that his wife is Princess Clementine, daughter of King Leopold of Belgium, and his mother is a princess of the House of Savoy. It needed but the entry of a Napoleon to make the cast complete.—Dundee Advertiser.

RADICAL CHANGES IN CHINA

Republican Government Doing Many Things, Among Others Breaking Through Historic Wall.

The great wall which has surrounded the city of Peking for many centuries is undergoing an unusual change. Peking is laid out in a symmetrical form, with nine gates leading through the great wall. Each side has two gates except the front, where an extra central gate—the Chien-men—leads directly into the forbidden city, the central inclosure of Peking. This Chien-men, or front gate, is the one most seriously crowded to the present day has never permitted to be enlarged nor any other gate to be broken near it in order to relieve the congestion of rickshaws, carts, donkeys, motor cars, camels and heavy-laden human beasts of burden—coolies.

The present republican government is by no means so superstitious as the old exclusive Manchurian regime, but Yuan Shikai must take into consideration the superstitions of the people. The gate through which former emperors passed in and out of Peking was opened immediately after the republic was established; but only a few days after it had been thrown open to the public a mutiny of the troops took place in Peking, and much of the town was looted. The cause of the calamity was laid to the credit of the newly opened gate, whereupon it was immediately closed and has never since been swung upon its hinges.

Since the republic has been well established a number of changes in the minor inner walls have taken place, and when on a war reconnaissance could carry a quarter of a ton of explosives, consisting perhaps of half a dozen giant bombs, each weighing 10 pounds, as compared with the one or two which aeroplanes now carry, or ten or a dozen 20-pound bombs. Although compared with a Zeppelin, the Sikorsky biplane only carries about a quarter the amount of explosives, and has a much shorter range, it has the very great advantage of being much cheaper, easier to build, less at the mercy of the elements, and a smaller target. CAPACITY OF AVERAGE SILO.

Easy Matter to Determine Number of Cubic Feet of Ensilage Required to Feed Cows.

(By A. D. WILSON, Superintendent Estimation Division, University Farm, St.
Paul, Minn.)

The amount of silage required and the size of silo needed to hold it can be quite closely calculated, provided the number and kind of animals to be fed from it are known before building.

An average cow or beef animal may be fed about 35 pounds of silage per day, and the usual period during which silage is used in this latitude will be about 210 days. Large animals or those that are being fattened may consume considerably more than 35 pounds per day, but this has been found a fair average.

In a silo of ordinary depth, the average weight of the silage is about 40 pounds per cubic foot. Near the top of the silo, however, where the pressure is not great, it will weigh only 25 pounds per cubic foot, while at the bottom of a 35-foot silo it may weigh 60 pounds. Taking these averages, if a cow eats 35 pounds of ensilage in a day, she will eat 35-40, or 5% of a cubic foot per day, and with this as a basis it is easy to determine the number of cubic feet of ensilage required to feed a cow or any number of cows throughout the season. The diameter of the silo must be such that the stock on hand can use one or two inches of silage off the top each day during the winter, and at least three inches per day when summer feeding of silage is to be practiced. This is necessary to keep the silage from spoiling.

A silo 10 feet in diameter is adapted to feeding 10 mature cattle. One 12 feet in diameter will feed 15 head, and one 14 feet in diameter will meet the needs of 20 head; but if there are 30 or more cows to feed, a 16-foot silo should be erected. These silos should be 30 or 40 feet, or even more in height.

Why is it that the major portion of the fellows holding down the soft political jobs are such ardent advocates of the non-partisan law?

The grade crossing is a poor place to anchor with an automobile containing human freight. If you must "kill" your engine, do so at a safe distance from the crossing, extending the courtesy of right of way to the steam cars.

Henry Ford and Bryan, peace advocates, are determined to keep in the focus of the calcium. Ford is arranging with Secretary Daniels to build a "pony" submarine. We will then have Fords on land, in the air and under the sea. Nothing slow about a Ford.

It is rumored that there is a movement on foot to remove the "e's" from the Brownes, the "y's" from the Smythens and the "t's" from the "Johnstons." It appears that the process of "political assimilation" was effected some time ago by the Johns(tons), notwithstanding the rules of orthography still remain intact.

The October ballot will contain first, the non-partisan referendum measure; second, the constitutional amendment providing for a revision of the taxation and revenue system; third, rural credits and the twelve-year term for judges proposition. There will be ten propositions on the ballot to be voted upon, and Attorney General Webb has given each a heading or title so the voter may quickly perceive the square to mark his X in.

Judge William P. Lawlor of the appellate court in the district in which Richmond and San Francisco are situated is one of the officials of high standing in whom the Richmond Terminal newspaper always placed confidence. The campaign cards on which appeared a half tone engraving decorated the walls of The Terminal news office and editorial rooms for several years until the fire wiped out the landmark at 618 Macdonald avenue fourteen months ago. The pictures adorned the office while Brown was editor, and Editor Ryan believed it to be a good decoration, too. While the memento quarter-cards were destroyed, thanks to the good judgment of the electors, Judge Lawlor still graces a higher bench with dignity.

"What the Papers Say"

Where They Stand.

The political field at Richmond is quite thoroughly covered.

The Independent is uncompromisingly progressive, or bullmoose. The Record-Herald is the only "died" in the wool democratic newspaper in Richmond.

The News is a labor organ.

The Richmond Terminal, Richmond's oldest newspaper, is republican. —Exchange.

Luxury and a Newspaper.
La Presse of Buenos Aires is probably the most sumptuously housed journal in the world. Apart from a number of spacious and luxuriously furnished rooms for the accommodation of the staff the Prensa offices comprise a well equipped library open to the general public and a suite of reception rooms where dances are periodically given. The journal also retains the exclusive services of a highly efficient doctor who is at the disposal of every subscriber and whose prescriptions are made up free of charge on the premises. On the roof of the office is an air piercing steam whistle which sounds whenever any special item of news is about to be exhibited in the windows.
